

Ryan, 17 years old, and Caitlin, three months

"There should be more support for fathers and fathers' groups. The teenage ante-natal classes and social workers had nothing to say about what I should expect, about how my feelings and relationships might change. I was ignored and made to feel like the second parent. Even the shop is called Mothercare – where's the Fathercare?"